A Brave Act Which Contains a Lesson For Those Who Have to Fight.

The Gazette aunounces that the queen has conferred the Victoria cross upon Surgeon Major Lloyd of the army medical staff for his gallantry during the operations against the Kachins last year. During the attack on the Sima tort by the Kachins on Jan. 6, 1893, the commanding officer, Captain Morton, while visiting a picket about 80 yards distant, was wounded. Surgeon Major Lloyd, accompanied by a native officer, at once ran out to help him, under a heavy fire. When, however, the wounded man was reached, it was found necescary to send back for more help, and Surgeon Major Lloyd had thus to remain with Captain Morton for some minutes The enemy, who were within 10 or 15 pm et, were all the time keeping up a heavy-life and killed four men, one of them being a bugler who was helping to carry Captain Morton. The Victoria cross was probably never earned more gallantly. Surgeon Major Lloyd would have delighted Frederick the Great as one of the mea who show no violent wish to 'live re rever.' His example is also useful to the burn in showing that there are productly no was risks through

AMERICANS IN EUROPE.

The English Boniface Is Making Preparations to Entertain Many of Us This Year. Already the indications are that more Americans are coming to Europe this year than ever before. The proprietors of the principal hotels in London are rejoicing over the fact that they have received more applications for apartments during the season from all parts of the United States than at so early a date in any previous year. If their expectations are unfulfilled, it will be a dismal time for the English boniface, for the best of them found the balance on the wrong side of the ledger last year, and America is the sole hope for many of them. One thing only it was feared might check the exodus, and that danger is probably over. Most of the steamship lines made some advance in first class fares last season in anticipation of World's fair travel. It proved to be the most unprofitable year for a long time. The recent conference of managers of the principal lines discussed the point unofficially, but the managers were almost unanimous in opposing a further

H. H. B. Regrets That They Did Not Do Their Work Right,

Ed. Jouenal:--Let me ask, "When doctors' disagree, what then?" I am led to ask this question since reading in your paper the controversy on finance between Doctors Hogan and Fulton. Were it not for the gravity of the subject discussed, the contention might be properly designated as Allopathy versus Water-cure. But what attracts my attention more particularly is the following, as published in your paper two days ago over the signature of good Doctor Fulton:

Reason to Believe That We Will Have to Guard Against the Plague This Year. For over two years the Asiatic cholera There have been violent outbreaks of the disease during the past week at a number of the populous centers of the western provinces, one of the most violent or them as far west as the city of Warsaw, and from that place both Germany and Austria are again directly menaccd.

There is reason, therefore, to fear that New York will have to be on the guard for yet another year, and that there will be need for the utmost vigilance on the part of the officers of our quarantine service. We do not doubt the ability of these officers to maintain the safety of the city.
